IV. PRACTICE

County Courts.

IV.—PRACTICE OF THE COURTS.

15. The course of procedure in every suit shall be in conformity with the rules which shall be prescribed regulating the conduct of suits in the Supreme Court, so far as the same shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance. Procedure.

16. All cases of a civil nature shall be heard and determined in a summary way. Summary.

17. The judgment of the Court shall be enforced in the first instance by sale of the goods and effects of the defendant; when the goods and effects of the defendant shall not suffice for payment of the sum recovered, including costs, the defendant may be imprisoned for a period of one calendar month for every five pounds or fractional part of five pounds remaining unpaid: Provided that the time of imprisonment shall in no case exceed four calendar months and shall cease so soon as the judgment of the Court shall have been satisfied. Execution.

18. It shall be lawful for any person under the age of twenty-one years to prosecute a suit for wages in the same manner as if he were of full age. Infants may sue for wages.

19. Where two or more persons are jointly answerable it shall be sufficient if one of such persons be served with the process of the Court, and judgment may be obtained and execution issued against such person alone, reserving always any right which he may have to demand contribution from any other person jointly liable. Joint liability.

20. It shall not be lawful for any plaintiff to divide any cause of action into two or more suits for the purpose of bringing the same within the jurisdiction of the Court, but any plaintiff having cause of action above the value of twenty pounds may abandon the excess, and the judgment of the Court if given in favour of such plaintiff shall operate as a full discharge of the defendant from all demand in respect of such cause of action. Cause of action not to be divided.

21. No person shall appear as an advocate or solicitor in the Court unless he be duly authorized to practice as such in the Supreme Court. Advocates.

22. In all civil cases the decision of the Judge shall be final on all questions both of fact and of law, nor shall any case be removed on behalf of either party into any superior Court, by certiorari or otherwise, in any stage of the proceedings. Nevertheless it shall be lawful for the Judge, upon the application of any of the parties to the suit made immediately upon the delivery of the judgment, to reserve for the opinion of the Supreme Court any point of law upon which such judgment may directly depend, in which case execution shall not issue until the opinion of the Supreme Court shall have been pronounced. Judgment to be final.

23. For the purpose of bringing a criminal case under the cognizance of the Court, an indictment duly signed by the Attorney-General or Crown Prosecutor of the county or district shall be as valid and effectual in all respects as if the same had been presented by a grand jury; in other respects the procedure of the Courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in England shall be adopted as nearly as the laws and circumstances of the Colony shall admit. Indictments how originated.

24. It shall be lawful for the Judge to reserve any point of law arising in any criminal case for the opinion of the Supreme Court. Points of law.

25. It shall be lawful for the Judges of the Supreme Court from time to time to make rules for regulating the practice of the Court, the scale of fees, the costs of suits and the taxing thereof, and all other matters relating to the business of the Court. Rules of practice.

26. All fees received by the Clerk as well as those received by the inferior officers of the Courts shall be accounted for quarterly to the Fee fund.
