1890, No. 21.—Local.

AN ACT to reconstitute the Thames Harbour Board and to validate Title.
and explain a certain Definition of the Port of Thames.

[13th September, 1890.]

WHEREAS by warrant dated the seventh day of September, one Preamble.
thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, issued under the hand of the then Governor of the colony, and made under the authority of "The Marine Act, 1867," it was declared that the seaward limits of the Port of Thames should be a circle of five nautic miles radius from Opani Point, and which said warrant was published in the New Zealand Gazette of the tenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four: And whereas by another warrant dated the eighteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, issued under the hand of the then Governor of the colony, and made under "The Harbours Act, 1878," the limits of the said Port of Thames were then altered and defined as set forth in such warrant, as the same is published in the New Zealand Gazette of the twenty-first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven: And whereas by another warrant dated the twenty-third day of May, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, issued and made as last aforesaid, the limits of the said Port of Thames were again altered and defined, and the warrant in that behalf is published in the New Zealand Gazette of the twenty-fifth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight: And whereas by a further warrant dated the eleventh day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, issued and made as last aforesaid, and published in the New Zealand Gazette of the thirteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, the limits of the Port of Thames were defined and declared to be those set out and described in the hereinbefore-recited warrant of the seventh day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four: And whereas doubts have arisen as to the sufficiency of the description of the limits intended to have been defined by the said last-mentioned warrant, and it is expedient that the same should be explained, and that the boundaries of the said Port of Thames should be properly defined, in accordance with the intention of the said warrant of the seventh day of September, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four: And whereas it is also expedient to alter the constitution of the Harbour Board for the Port of Thames:
